GENERAL NEWS.

Oscar Wilde Suffers More Annoyance at Rochester.

THE PASS SYSTEM CONSIDERED BY THE IOWA LEGISLATURE.

Tammany Determined to Control the New York Legislature or Allow no one else to—Railroad Notes.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Some holders of bonds of Yankton county, Dakota, have prepared a protest against the admission of Dakota as a state, which will be forwarded shortly to Washington. The allegations therein contained, if true, show a remarkably bad record for the citizens of that county. It is set up that in 1872 the county issued $200,000 in bonds, to aid the Dakota Southern railroad under act of congress; that these bonds are widely distributed; that under the lead of some men now pushing the matter of admission at Washington, the county stopped interest on these bonds and tried to repudiate them; but after several years of litigation the United States supreme court, in May, 1880, decided they must be paid. Since then, by various disreputable expedients, aided by the territorial legislature, they have, the bondholders assert, avoided payment of interest, which now amounts to $160,000. One expedient was a law permitting the county commissioners to resign immediately by filing a paper, and by so resigning the commissioners escaped service last summer, and when the affairs of the county demanded some attention new commissioners were appointed early one Monday morning, who met secretly, transacted the business and resigned before daylight to avoid process. This trick was approved by the voters, who re-elected them, but that they feared to qualify. Finally two of them did qualify secretly, transacted some business and then resigned, leaving the bonds in statu quo. In view of this condition of affairs the bondholders will protest that Dakota is not ready for self government, and that the federal power, which authorized the bonds, should protect the holders, and not encourage repudiation.

How Oscar was Guyed at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, Feb. 8.—About 100 students of Rochester University, most of whom were seniors, created a great disturbance at Oscar Wilde's lecture in the Grand Opera House here last night. They occupied seats mostly in the gallery and during the lecture they kept up a running fire of hisses, groans and hootings, which compelled the lecturer to pause more than a dozen times. When the hullabaloo became so noisy that the æsthetic voice could not be heard he would stop, fold his arms across his breast and look calmly at his tormentors; but he evidently thought discretion the better part of valor and made no comments on the annoyance. When the lecturer had proceeded about a quarter of an hour an old darkey, dressed with a swallow-tailed coat, one white kid glove and a bouquet of flowers as big as a peck measure, walked down the aisle with many antics and grimaces and took a front seat. This was the students' work, and the entrance of the darkey was the signal for a great burst of applause, which ended in guffaws, catcalls and other specimens of collegiate amusement. A great many people became disgusted and left the hall before the close of the lecture. A policeman attempted to eject one of the disturbers when a general gallery melee ensued which was made more interesting by turning off the gas. The manager of the house sent for more policemen, but before they arrived most of the students had left and Oscar finished his lecture before the few people who had remained more to see the fun than to hear the lecture. The sunflower apostle is very much wrought up by his reception.

Railroad Bond Decision.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Jay Gould and Russell Sage, as trustees of the first consolidated mortgage bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railroad Company, have begun suit in the supreme court against Amos H. Cater as trustee of the second land grant mortgage bonds of the same company, Wm. Skrankel individually, and the Kansas Pacific and Union Pacific railroad companies. It appears that the Kansas Pacific Railroad Company made two mortgages upon its land grants, one to secure bonds to the amount of $2,000,000, and the other to secure bonds to the amount of $1,500,000. Plaintiffs succeeded to the trusteeship of the second on the 1st of May, 1879. A consolidated mortgage was effected of which plaintiffs were elected trustees, and the latter retired the bonds secured by all other mortgages except bonds and coupons of the first land grant mortgages to the amount of $17,500 and upon the second land grant mortgage bonds valued at $1000. This last bond is held by Skrankel, and plaintiffs aver that he refuses to satisfy his mortgage until said bond is canceled. Plaintiffs claim that they are hindered in their duties as trustees by these refusals, and they petition the court to have sufficient money deposited with the clerk to satisfy all claims. The court originally made an order directing service of summons and complaint on Skrankel by publication, and subsequently a motion was made to vacate this order, but to-day a decision was given denying the motion.

A Huge Assessment.

The Commercial Advertiser says the Mariposa Land and Mining Co. has levied an assessment of $5 per share, aggregating $750,000, payable in New York and San Francisco at once. This is one of the largest assessments ever levied and is no doubt to be used mainly to pay the judgment obtained by James A. Donohue against the estate. It is said that a syndicate has been organized here to buy in all stock delinquent under the assessment.

A Meeting of Reception.

A special meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held Wednesday next to meet Sir Henry Parkes, prime minister of New South Wales, and to hear an address by him on the present commercial relations existing between this country and Australia. Sir Henry arrived from San Francisco to-day.

Fluctuations of Stock.

Hannibal and St. Joseph common stock suddenly jumped this morning from 94¾ to 110 and reached 115. Later it fell to 99¾, then rose to 101.

The Pass System in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Feb. 7.—In the house to-day the report of the state railway commissioners upon the resolution relating to free passes was read. It is a humorous and sarcastic document and holds that giving passes to editors merely interchanges goods which each has to sell. It declines to impugn the motive of judges in accepting passes and thinks reduced fares to convention delegates compensated for by increased travel. It refers to a letter of Ansel Barcom, member of the New York legislature in 1846. The letter refused a pass over the Auburn and Rochester railroad on the high moral grounds that he would not accept such a bribe, but the commissioners say the papers of that day generally denounced the letter as political claptrap, and the pass system has come to be regarded as merely an exchange of courtesies and heritage of office. Personally they would approve of the abolition of all passes, but the abolition should be radical and prohibit issuance of passes over any road, even to officers of connecting roads. Deadheads are estimated as ten per cent. of the travel. The Pennsylvania, Arkansas and California constitutions prohibit passes to be given to certain persons, but California has the wisest provision, which prohibits passes to all officers except railroad commissioners. These laws are generally a dead letter, but would be rigidly enforced if put on the statute books of Iowa.

A Merited Fate.

RENROAD, Ind., Feb. 8.—The three roughs killed while trying to raid a saloon in Tunneltown, were Nicholas Vaughn, aged 17, Virgil Wilson and Zach Whitted. These men with Don Willoughby, conspired to steal a large amount of money in Meyer's saloon and then kill and rob Thomas Clark, a wealthy citizen, start a fire near the village and after burglarizing a large manufacturing place to flee to Colorado or New Mexico. Willoughby became frightened and exposed the plot Sunday morning, and precautions were at once taken to thwart them. A freight car containing five armed citizens in ambush was rolled nearly to the saloon door, commanding the whole place, and some 15 others were hiding about the saloon when the fellows began their burglarious attempt. Five of 20 rifles were concentrated on them, and all fell, but none were fatally wounded until a second volley was given them. Whitted dropped dead, Vaughn was mortally wounded and Wilson, after running some distance and falling several times, got the coup de grace from some person following who shot his head off. Vaughn died last night. Willoughby said there was an organized gang of 12 who had entered upon several villainous plots. He has left in fear of his life. He as well as the rest bore a very bad character, though some of them had respectable parents.

Meeting of the Assay Commission.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8.—The annual session of the assay commission appointed by the president opened at the mint this morning. Members of the commission who were present were Judge Butler, Senator Allison, Gen. Rosecrans, Representatives Fisher and Belford, Gen. George W. Childs, Prof. Charles E. Munroe, of the naval academy, Prof. J. E. Hilgard, of the U. S. coast survey, Thomas Donaldson, President Piper, of the University of Pennsylvania, Hon. John J. Knox, comptroller of currency, Dr. W. P. Lawyer, assayer, and Eckfeldt, clerk of the mint. The commission was organized by electing Judge Butler chairman and Eckfeldt secretary, and was then divided by the chairman into two committees; a committee on assay and a weighing committee. Gen. Rosecrans was appointed chairman of the assay committee and Prof. Hilgard of the weighing committee. Committees was appointed to test the fineness and weight of products of the U. S. mints for 1881, and the result of their labors will be probably embodied in a report which will be looked for to-morrow.

Better Late than Never.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—In September, 1876, a German named John Bandholz winning the affections of Lena Blar purchased a license and settled in life without further ado. The result is a family of five children. To-day Bandholz appeared at Justice Kaufman's office to obtain advice as to the legality of his marriage relations. He was horrified to learn that a license and a marriage certificate were not documents of equal and synonymous powers. His wife was summoned and the fact was made known to her, when she fell on her knees and begged that the ceremony be performed, which was then and there done.

it was murder or suicide. The fact was disclosed that a shot bag was found under the body. Inquest will be held to-morrow afternoon.

Wild Shooting.

CLINTON, Mo., Feb. 11—Two desperadoes, Grogger and McKenzy, quarreled to-day and began shooting.

Points from the Prize Ring.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Herald's New Orleans: After the battle the doctor examined Ryan and found his left jaw broken in two places, besides several other injuries. To add to the poor fellow's misfortune, while he was fighting some rascal entered the house where he put up and stole all his clothes and three hundred dollars in money. Thus misfortunes seem to pursue him even to the bitter end. W. Emmett, backer of Sullivan, intends challenging the world with him for any amount of money and he will probably take him to Europe should he not find a customer for him in this country. Harry Hill will pay over the stakes held by him this day week at his place of business in New York.

A Belligerent Family.

TROY, Feb. 8.—Paddy Ryan's wife, having received no news of her husband's defeat direct from him, refuses to believe there has been a fight, and says newspapers are telling a yarn, that Sullivan could never whip Paddy and she knows it, and "don't you forget it." Ryan's mother-in-law announces she could lick Sullivan herself.

An Injury to the Salmon Trade.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Referring to an interview in the morning papers, A. Booth, fish dealer, writes: "I have no sympathy with the practice of labelling canned salmon with any label but that of the cannery in which it is packed, as the large salmon canning interests of the Pacific coast will suffer an immense injury if this illegitimate practice is not suppressed. I unhesitatingly denounce this practice and see no explanation for it except a desire to foist inferior goods on the market under cover of well known brands. I understand that parties on the Pacific coast feel much aggrieved by the false labelling of these goods, having been thereby obliged to meet unfair and illegitimate competition, and I have been informed these parties are in possession of certain facts bearing on what has been said, which they will duly publish."

Forgers Arrested.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Jack Brush and five other expert forgers were arrested to-day, one of them being taken in the act of passing a check so skillfully raised that bank officers were unable to say it was bogus. These men came from New York a week ago and are very expert.

A Vaccine Farm Started.

A vaccine farm has been started on the corner of 39th street and Wabash avenue by Dr. George M. Dixon, formerly of San Francisco, who is said to have a bad reputation. He says he can supply 3000 to 6000 points per day, has 200 heifers and has already sold 40,000 points.

Marriage of a Courtesan.

Clarice M. Coleman, an inmate of a house of prostitution, was married to-night in the Sherman house to Chas. A. Minor, of New York city, by the assistant rector of the fashionable Christ church. She claims to be the daughter of a well known judge of Council Bluffs and to have been the paramour of a well known member of the Union Square Company and a naval officer formerly stationed at Mare Island with whom she made a tour around the world, passing for years as his wife. She claims to have had a son at the age of 15 who is now 18 years old. His father and her first husband, Jas. T. Coleman, stole her from a St. Louis convent and was afterwards shot in Denver.

Wisconsin Resolutions.

MADISON, Feb. 8.—The legislature passed the following resolution to-day:

Resolved, As the sense of the legislature of Wisconsin, that as the territorial government of Utah has been in fact seized on by the church usually called Mormon, and as it has been able to control a majority of electors in said territory favorable to the objects for which said church was created and prohibiting the legislative powers to be used against the protection of crime and the degradation of citizens, it is the right and duty of congress to so alter the form and plan of government as will effectually meet the evils to be remedied, and to enforce reforms by adequate remedies; and the constant reinforcement of this so-called religious organization by the sweepings of America and Europe should be legally discouraged, if not strictly prohibited.

Only a Political Dodge.

YANKTON, Feb. 8.—A denial is sent from Bonhomme county that C. T. McCoy was guilty of bond frauds, for which he was alleged to have been arrested in Washington, D. C. The denial states that the bond register is in its place and has never been disturbed; that the grand jury has refused to indict anybody on the bond charge, and that the whole indebtedness of the county is less than $35,000.

Patti's Peregrinations.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Adeline Patti at her concert to-night had an $8000 house at Central music hall. She goes to Detroit, Cincinnati, New York and possibly Boston before leaving for Europe.

The Grand Trunk Dissatisfied.

The Grand Trunk is greatly dissatisfied with the new trunk line agreements, its proportion being a very small share of the travel, and its officials complain that not only does Vanderbilt refuse to work in connection with the Grand Trunk, but that Vanderbilt's roads and the Pennsylvania road have not yet withdrawn from points in the west and northwest their cheap tickets.

Tammany wants a Monopoly or None.

ALBANY, Feb. 8.—Tammany assemblymen withdrew from the democratic caucus to-night, the caucus refusing to adjourn till to-morrow. Tammany wanted adjournment that they might deliberate on certain questions intimately connected with plans which they have formed to secure a monopoly of legislation. The caucus, however, nominated a full line of officers, who cannot, though, be elected without the aid of Tammany.

Unknown Bodies Found.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill., Feb. 8.—A colored man reached town yesterday afternoon, breathless with fright and excitement, and stated he had found three dead bodies in the woods seven miles above here, near the banks of Embarrass river. All the men were lying face down, and the bodies were decomposed and unrecognizable. A posse of citizens immediately left for the place.

A Bad State of Affairs.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Information was received to-day in a private letter dated January 30th, that about half the population of Port au Prince is suffering from yellow fever. A son of the U. S. minister was dangerously ill with fever, and it was spreading throughout the island. Port au Prince is rigidly quarantined and regular steamers cannot enter the harbor. Financial affairs of the country are also in a desperate condition.

Counterfeiters Captured.

DURANGO, Col., Feb. 8.—For some time past Durango has been flooded with counterfeit dollars. Last evening the sheriff captured Jim Bush, formerly a member of the notorious Allison gang, Jack McIntyre, W. F. Everetts, a prominent merchant and two gamblers, together with their moulds and stolen bullion, from which the bogus money was made.

Mormons at Work.

CHATTANOOGA, Feb. 8.—Mormon missionaries are hard at work in Union county, East Tennessee, and have secured a number of converts, notably some negroes. The community is very much worked up against them and there are threats of lynching.

Murder and Robbery.

Information reached here to-day of the horrible murder of a widow lady named Tankersley, living in Cherokee county, Ga. She was murdered and robbed, the house burned and her charred remains found in the debris. Two nephews of the victim named Moal have been arrested charged with the crime.

A Chance for Future Trouble.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 8.—Dispatches have been sent by Gen. Terry to Col. Hatch at Fort Custer, directing the removal from the Crow reservation of men engaged in cutting railroad ties. The Crows are so uneasy at the presence of these lawless foragers that a rebellion against them is threatened, as the Crows have many rich lands and mineral deposits, and efforts will be made in the spring to drive them off.

A Schoolboy Trick.

SYRACUSE, Feb. 8.—Some sophomores this afternoon kidnapped two Japanese freshmen of Syracuse University, from Yokohama, and abandoned them in a wood, leaving them to find their way back in the dark. They had not yet arrived at a late hour last night.

Struck for Higher Wages.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—One hundred and fifty blast furnace workers in the Union Iron and Steel Co's works struck yesterday for an advance of 15 to 20 per cent in wages. The company stubbornly refuses to compromise.

Anti-Polygamists at Work.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Anti-polygamy meetings continue to be held all over the country. Last night one was held at Dubuque, which was equal in size to a political mass meeting. There were several fine addresses and much enthusiasm.

Crop Prospects in "Egypt."

As an offset against the stories of famine in Southern Illinois, reports come daily of the flattering prospects of growing wheat which, though far less in acreage than last year, is in splendid condition according to reports.

Catholics Assaulted.

NEWARK, Feb. 8.—Great excitement prevails among Catholics owing to an assault made on Sisters of Charity and closing of their schools by Father McCorck. Steps are being taken to close the church.

A Detrimental Treaty.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The board of trade and transportation, recognizing the so-called reciprocity treaty with the Sandwich Islands as detrimental to the public welfare, approves the measures introduced in congress for its abrogation.

A Defaulter Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8.—Henry C. Warmold, the $18,000 defaulter of Adams Express Co. at Bladensburg, Ky., was arrested to-day under an assumed name.

MEXICO.

Arrested for Forgery.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 8.—The president's signature was recently forged to a warrant for $2500. The forgery was detected, but not, however, until the parties had escaped. Monday night the police arrested eight government employes on suspicion, and they are in jail awaiting trial.

to sympathize with the despairing lament wherewith Shelley accompanies his English version of a grand chorus in "Faust," "it is impossible to represent in another language the melody of the versification. Even the volatile strength and delicacy of the ideas escape in the crucible of translation, and the reader is surprised to find a caput mortuum

WASHINGTON NEWS.

PENDLETON TO BE GIVEN MORE ROOM FOR DEVELOPMENT.

The Committee on Territories to Report the Bill Favorably Admitting Washington as a State.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Herald's Washington special: The prevailing sentiment among leading minds in both houses of congress in both parties on the question of inter-oceanic canal at this time is this:

First—That what is needed is not a ship railway, but a ship canal.

Second—That a ship canal across the isthmus ought to be and must be controlled by the government of the United States, so that in time of war it may be able to send its war ships and munitions of war through the canal, and prevent its enemies from using it for hostile purposes against the United States.

Third—That in order to justly claim the right to exercise such control, the government of the United States ought to own at least a controlling share of property of the canal, and would be in the best situation if it owned the whole canal.

Fourth—That the discussion raised by Blaine about the Clayton-Bulwer treaty was needless, and that it is unlikely that any European power will offer to disturb us if we actually build the canal, and that until we do the questions raised by Blaine are of no consequence.

Fifth—That we need not care whether European capital constructs one or half a dozen canals across the isthmus. What we need is a canal of our own, under our own control and which we can use exclusively for ourselves in case of war, throwing it open to the whole world for the uses of commerce, in which uses by the whole world we are it is rightly held as much interested as any other nation.

Sixth—It is the general belief that a canal by way of Nicaragua is more favorably situated for our own uses in time of war and for the convenience of the world's commerce than a canal by any other route, and that it can be more cheaply and quickly built than a canal by any other line, and that the charter now held by an American company from Nicaragua is abundant for our ends, and finally it is probable that the present congress will adopt measures for the immediate construction of the Nicaragua canal.

Lawlessness in Arizona.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The president, in a special message to congress, transmitted a communication from Secretary Kirkwood, enclosing letters from Acting Governor Gosper, of Arizona, in relation to lawlessness in that territory. The president calls attention to the recommendation in his annual message that the posse comitatus act be amended so as to permit the use of military in assisting civil authorities in territories to maintain order, and suggests again such legislation as seems to be required. In his communication, Secretary Kirkwood says that in New Mexico and Arizona the difficulty in the way of repressing lawlessness arises from the fact that sheriffs are intimidated, or that from personal motives they desire to curry favor with disorderly elements of society. It is therefore suggested whether it would or not be expedient that proper authority should be conferred by law upon the governor of any territory to remove or suspend a sheriff for neglect of duty and appoint a person in his place. In a letter dated the 19th of December, acting Gov. Gosper urged the special posse comitatus act as the best means of giving that territory relief from the reckless rule now destroying the peace and liberty of the otherwise favored portions of that territory. In another letter detailing the course of lawlessness, Gov. Gosper says the people of Tombstone and of Cochise county in their mad career after money have grossly neglected local self government until the more lazy and lawless elements of society have undertaken to prey upon the more industrial and honorable classes for their subsistence and gains. The cowboys are not always white. Some are Mexicans; but Americans direct and control the lawless element. The acting governor estimates the whole number of cowboys, which term he says includes skilled cattle thieves and highway robbers, in county Cochise where most of the trouble has occurred, from 25 to 50. Other bands are scattered over the territory. Besides cowboys there is a class much larger in number of the "good Lord and good devil" kind, who keep up a secret partnership with the robbers and profit by their lawlessness. The committee on territories in the senate decided to act promptly and they will probably within a few days report a bill to modify the posse comitatus act so as to allow military to be employed to assist civil officers in territories and border states in enforcing law and maintaining order. Indications are that democrats will oppose any modification of the posse comitatus act, and take the position that civil officers should be increased where lawlessness prevails to a sufficient number to put it down. A leading democratic senator says to-night that the civil power is able in all parts of the union, if properly directed, to do without the aid of military, and he would oppose any law having for its object the use of soldiery except for military purposes.

Comment on the Land Grant Bill.

A prominent member of the committee on Pacific railroads, on the subject of a proposed compulsory forfeiture of land grants by various railroad companies which have not complied with the laws, says quite probably the Pacific road committee will not act on the matter until after the judiciary committee has decided upon the power which was vested in the respective railroads by the issue of land grants. The gentleman added, "To compel the roads to give up these lands would undoubtedly work a great hardship, and the question is one of great importance."

To be Reported Favorably.

The house committee on territories will in all probability report favorably the bill for admission of Washington territory as a state. There are certain propositions made by Aldrich about which the committee is not agreed. They are amendments to prohibit the sale of school lands except for educational purposes, and to limit the power of the new state to issue bonds. Some opposition is made to this on the ground that congress has no right to thus interfere with the prerogatives of a state. The main proposition to admit the state, however, has been partially agreed upon.

More Room for Pendleton.

The senate to-day, on motion of Slater, took up and passed his bill authorizing the secretary of interior to sell 640 acres of the Umatilla Indian reservation contiguous to the town of Pendleton, Oregon. The bill requires this tract to be surveyed in squares and town lots, and to be sold after appraisement and 30 days advertisement to the highest bidder, payments to be one-third cash and balance on one and two years credit.

A Lawyer's Views Wanted.

The house committee on the law regarding the election of president and vice president held a meeting to-day and decided to invite David Dudley Field to give his views upon the subject at a meeting to be held Saturday. It is believed the committee will report a bill in the house during the present session providing for arbitrament of all disputed questions arising from the election of president and vice president, by U. S. courts, with the right of appeal to the U. S. supreme court.

After a Soft Place.

The retirement of Gen. Brown and promotion of Major Rochester as paymaster-general, with the resultant promotions in the pay department, will leave a vacancy in the grade of major and paymaster, a very nice place and always much sought for. Applications for appointment to fill this vacancy are already pouring into the war department and White House from all parts of the country.

Legislation to be Pushed.

From this time onward it is the intention of republican leaders to push ahead the appropriation bills as rapidly as possible, with a view of procuring adjournment of congress in May. It now looks as if congress will do little business this session besides passing the annual appropriation bills and five others, namely, the apportionment bill, Chinese bill, tariff commission bill, the bill to extend national bank charters, and some measure reducing internal revenue taxation.

Sacramento to have a Public Building.

Representative Page's bill appropriating $100,000 for the erection of a public building at Sacramento to accommodate the post office and other federal offices, was to-day reported to the house from the committee on public buildings and grounds and placed on the calendar with recommendation for passage.

Guiteau Becoming Depressed.

Guiteau is becoming very much depressed. The jail warden says he no longer assumes the confident air which he always has had except in the presence of newspaper people. He is to be cut off from all outside communication and that fact depresses him very much.

Pugh's Supreme Court Bill.

Pugh introduced to-day in the senate his bill to divide the U. S. Supreme court into three sections, federal, equity and admiralty courts, with three justices for each. Final hearings in doubtful cases are to be before the full court.

Washburne's Bill Approved.

The house committee on Indian affairs approve the bill of Washburne authorizing the secretary of the interior to pay the amounts due citizens of the United States for supplies furnished to Sioux Indians between August, 1860, and August, 1862.

A Temporary Official.

Romero is expected to arrive next week from Mexico. The understanding is that he is to be merely a temporary representative of Mexico at this capital, and Mariscal will be eventually appointed to the position.

Nominations.

Among the nominations sent to the senate to-day were the following postmasters: Henry H. Halsey, Dutch Flat, Cala.; C. A. Lounsberry, Bismarck, Dakota; Newman Blanchard, Miles City, Montana.

Democrats will Oppose It.

Democrats will oppose the tariff commission bill as a subterfuge to perpetuate protection, and they will try to unite the party on this issue.

Villard is the name selected for the new town at Rackett's falls, in the Mouse river country. The town is already platted.

"I was very severely burned about the right leg several years ago," says Mr. R. R. Colyer, 123 Erie street, Jersey City, N. J., "and the spot always remained tender. A short time ago I wounded the old spot, and it refused to heal. I applied St. Jacobs Oil, half a bottle of which cured the injured limb."

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.

Blair introduced a resolution for an amendment of the constitution, prohibiting the manufacture, sale, importation and exportation of alcoholic liquors and other poisonous beverages from and after the year 1900.

Call offered a resolution directing the secretary of state to institute negotiations for a reciprocity treaty with states of Central and South America.

Senate then resumed discussion of the pension arrears resolution.

Blair favored the repeal of the law on the principle governing arrears.

Vest referred to his devotion to the cause of the confederacy, and said he had accepted all that the surrender of Appomattox implied. The legitimate result of the union success was payment of pensions and bounty to men whose valor and heroism gave victory to the union cause. The people who would not thus reward the sacrifice of life and limb for a nation's life would deserve to be stricken from the map of christendom. Had the confederates triumphed he would have voted to them every dollar of money and every acre of land until their just demands were satisfied.

Maxey said former confederates in this house had voted almost unanimously for the arrears bill and had not introduced repeal bills as Ingalls claimed.

After discussion by Allison, Hoar, Ingalls and Butler the resolution was laid over till to-morrow.

Senate adjourned.

House.

Kasson, from the ways and means committee, reported the tariff commission bill; referred to committee of the whole and will ask its consideration soon.

The apportionment bill was then considered.

Mills submitted an amendment fixing the membership at 307.

After some debate the apportionment matter went over and Sherman's funding bill was referred to the ways and means committee.

Eulogies were pronounced upon O'Connor, of South Carolina, and the house adjourned.

The Utah Contest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The house committee on judiciary gave a hearing this morning to Cannon of Utah, who is contesting the seat which was given to Campbell upon the certificate of the governor of Utah. Cannon contended that the discrimination against him had been merely and solely on account of the religious tenets of the Mormon church, and that such discrimination is directly opposed to the spirit and letter of the constitution. He was elected to a seat in the Forty-seventh congress by an overwhelming majority, and is legally entitled to represent his constituents.

Delegate Cannon wires a letter this morning to a paper in New York, denying he had threatened to expose private escapades of members of congress, in order to show that Mormon practices were no worse than those of society generally. He says he attends strictly to his own business. It is a fact that certain congressmen have been somewhat worried over reports of what Cannon was going to publish.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

The Call System to be Used.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—In the Produce Exchange the report of the call committee was submitted to a committee of seven appointed to make rules for the conduct of business, and the board of directors was asked to establish standards of produce as mentioned in yesterday's report. A minority report by Horace Davis and G. W. McNear, opposing the call system, as tending to introduce a gambling feature into the grain trade was rejected.

Pacific Coast Steamship Company Election

Stockholders of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company have elected the following directors and officers for the ensuing year: Chas. Goodall, C. H. Prescott, John Rosenfeld, Wm. Norris, George C. Perkins, J. L. Howard and Edwin Goodall. President, Charles Goodall; Vice President, John Rosenfeld; Secretary, Edwin Goodall. The general agents are Goodall, Perkins & Co., who to-day assumed agency of the O. R. & N. Co.

Suit for Damages.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—Rebecca Rodgers by Dunlap & Vanvleet, her attorneys, has commenced suit here to-day against the Central Pacific Railroad Co. for $50,000 damages. She alleges that her son, James McGregor Rodgers, fireman in the employ of the company, was killed by an accident on the road April 9, 1881, and that his death was caused by negligence of the company.

A Comet Seen.

What has the appearance of being a comet appeared for some two hours this evening, due southwest, about one-third below the zenith. It appeared to be all tail and about two degrees long and had no perceptible nucleus. It was first seen about eight o'clock, the tail quite bright and at the lower end broad and brighter. The clouds later obscured from view all appearance of the comet save that it lacks a nucleus.

Partial Failure of Crops.

MODESTO, Feb. 8.—It is safe now to say that this year will be a partial failure so far as the wheat crop is concerned. The last sown grain cannot survive. West side prospects were decided long ago, only where irrigation can be had. Summer fallowed grain will probably make little more than seed with the usual spring rains. Stock is beginning to feel the need of feed.

ARIZONA.

Indian Depredations.

TOMBSTONE, Feb. 7.—Two men just in from the Dragoon mountains confirm the report of straggling bands of Indians there. They report finding the body of a murdered man named Wetzel, who was evidently stoned to death and his horse stolen. Wetzel had been engaged in hauling wood into Tombstone and his body was found near a loaded wagon. Eight miles from this city 17 Indians were seen and are supposed to be from San Carlos reservation en route to join the Chiricahua Apaches, who are creating such havoc in Sonora, Mexico. Four companies of soldiers are at Camp Huachuca, but are in no danger, being 25 miles away.

A Fraudulent Agent.

Marshal Williams, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s agent at this place has left here suddenly, leaving several depositors in the lurch. His accounts with the express company are square.

Jury Still Out.

The jury in the case of Billy the Kid, charged with murder, has been out two days.

A Railroad Route being Examined.

YUMA, Feb. 8.—Col. Chalmers Scott, surveyor for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, left here yesterday evening for Tucson. He is to examine the route of the new railroad from Tucson to the Gulf of California via Cababi and Meyers district, projected by Gov. F. A. Tritle, B. F. Bevens and others. A favorable report by him may result in an abandonment of the Yuma and Port Ysabel route, but it is hardly probable owing to the increased distance.

A Serious Charge.

A Tombstone dispatch says the coroner's jury in the case of Wetzel, found murdered by Indians in the Dragoon mountains, charge responsibility for that and similar occurrences on the inefficiency and imbecility of U. S. military authorities of the territory. It is rumored that three more bodies of victims of the Indians have been found in the Dragoon mountains.

NEVADA.

Comstock Notes.

VIRGINIA, Feb. 8.—Only a few feet remain to connect the main Savage incline with the 2400 foot level. All work is now being done from below, as it would be dangerous to have men working on both sides.

Arrangements have been made by which the Alta Company will at once start a drift south for the Justice Company on the 2150 foot level. This drift will be started at a point about 30 feet from the face of the east drift, and this will carry it just outside the west casing of the Woodville vein. At this the Alta folks will start a drift of their own to the northward.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Seattle Notes.

SEATTLE, Feb. 8.—Mike O'Leary, who has his arm broken, ribs stove in and his shoulders crushed by a falling tree in a logging camp last Monday, died in Providence hospital in this city yesterday.

Col. John McCraken of Portland, W. P. Winans of Walla Walla, and W. J. George of Seattle have been appointed a committee to go to San Francisco and investigate the affairs of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co. The invitation to do this comes from the managers of the company itself. The committee will leave Portland on the steamer of Feb. 14th.

JAPANESE AFFAIRS.

YOKOHAMA, Jan. 24.—Dr. Takepa Sinpei, president of the Aychiken assembly of Mikowa province, was decapitated in his house and his wife mortally wounded by three unknown men, who announced that robbery was not their motive. It is supposed that it was a matter of private spite or political partisanship. Deceased was a prominent and public spirited man.

A severe gale at Nishiusru destroyed many houses, trees were blown down and vessels in the harbors sustained much damage. A steamer sunk in Harima bay.

A preliminary investigation of the demands upon the Japanese for treaty revision made by foreign ministers will do nothing until the arrival of the British minister, Parkes.

Telegrams have been received by the Japanese government announcing the appointment of John Russell Young, minister. Japanese journals state that Bingham, the present U. S. minister, accepts the appointment.

The reorganization of the ministry has produced some trouble. Its home minister has been anonymously threatened with assassination.

Captain Jacob Schmidt, of Tompkinsville, Staten Island, New York, suffered with severe rheumatism for many years. He used St. Jacobs Oil with splendid effect, and adopted it as a family medicine.

"Oh, Mrs. Ramsbotham," exclaimed a learned professor, to whom that excellent lady had been relating one of her most extraordinary adventures, "Oh, Mrs. Ramsbotham, you must be joking!" "Indeed I'm not professor," she returned, "I assure you I was speaking quite seriously." She liked to talk latin to a professor.—Punch.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Gladstone and the Marquis of Salisbury Indulge in Debate.

THE "NO RENT" ORGANIZATION CONSIDERED A DANGEROUS ONE.

Secretary Forster has a Narrow Escape from Mutilation, if not Death—Condition of Parisian Finances.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDON, Feb. 8.—In the Marquis of Salisbury's speech yesterday in the house of lords, he said Gladstone's utterances in regard to the recent conduct of the government in regard to Turkish affairs, tended to separate England from Germany. He hoped the government would co-operate with the sultan and with France so long as their line of policy were parallel, but would reserve liberty to diverge when interest prompted them to act differently. He deprecated the policy of neutralization. Referring to Ireland he declared the unexampled state of affairs there would not have been allowed to exist in France or America six months. He considered the royal speech an exhortation to persevere in the course previously pursued, "which is," he said, "let anarchy have its way and offer hope to those whom we hope to conciliate, because we are unable to conquer them." He concluded his speech with these words. The country expects the government to meet a calamity of which the doctrines they have preached have been the cause.

Granville, secretary of state for foreign affairs, replied that the present condition of Ireland compared favorably with that during last year, and quoted statistics to prove the truth of his statement. The government, he said, relied upon the beneficial effect of the land act. He stated the government's policy in Egypt was maintenance of rights of the khedive.

Gladstone makes a few Remarks.

Gladstone in the house of commons to-day, in regard to the commercial treaty with France, said the question had for some time been whether to break off negotiations, but they had not yet arrived at a point to warrant this course. He upheld the impartiality of the commissioners under the land act, and said the average rent reductions so far were 23 per cent. In regard to the land leaguers' war against all property, he said he thought there was every indication that a great conspiracy had not only been confronted, but defeated.

P. J. Smythe, home rule member of Tipperary, moved an amendment to the address in favor of a repeal of the union. Debate was then adjourned.

British Eloquence.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—In a debate on the address in reply to the queen's speech, in the house of commons this afternoon, Northcote assailed the government policy. Gladstone, in an eloquent speech, vehemently attacked the land league, and highly eulogized Forster's efforts to restore order.

The Irish Policy Condemned.

In the commons this afternoon Justin McCarthy, on behalf of the Irish members, gave notice of a long amendment to an address, categorically condemning every point in the government's Irish policy and urging immediately a return to constitutional methods.

A Dangerous Organization.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Herald's Dublin: The conspiracy I referred to recently, extends to twenty-four counties, including three in Munster. It is a semi-Fenian and ribbon association, divided into county battalions, half battalions and district squads of twenty-five. Its head organizer is in Dublin. By this organization nationalists and ribbon men are for the first time in the history of Irish conspiracies working in unity. An oath binds members to be faithful to the Irish republic and obey their superior officers in everything without question. The object is to deter persons from paying rent, to administer punishment to those who disobey its order promulgated by placards or otherwise, and also to enlist a large body of men who will be drilled.

Granville's Correspondence Published.

The correspondence published from Lord Granville, dated January 7th, deals in detail with the whole Clayton-Bulwer treaty controversy. The Times says the cogency and completeness with which the position of England has been defended is received with satisfaction.

Trouble in Cabul.

Intelligence is received here from Cabul that Herat is in revolt over the action of Governor Abdul Kudur Khan, who refused to vacate his post and accept the governorship of Candahar. Ameer Porte retaliated by beheading Kudur's brother in Cabul.

Forster's Narrow Escape.

Forster has confirmed the statement that an explosive letter had reached Dublin Castle after his departure for London. If opened as the senders desired he would certainly have lost his hands and might have been killed.

Contents of Forster's Letter.

The explosive letter sent to Mr. Forster contained a scruple and a half of iodide of nitrogen, which is a fearfully dangerous explosive and very seldom used, being difficult to obtain.

Condition of the Paris Money Market.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—Bourse was excited at its close by the announcement that the official liquidator of Union Generale will require a settlement of Union Generale new shares, in which outsiders are heavily engaged. Foreign securities were heavy because foreign markets appear unable to absorb any more stock from Paris. Purchases for cash continue here at an estimated rate of 100,000,000 francs weekly, but are not sufficient to check the decline.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—The bourse is gradually assuming its normal aspect. There has been a great rise in Suez canal shares. At Lyons, in consequence of many bankruptcies, the bourse is virtually extinguished.

A Flat Market.

The Pall Mall Gazette says the stock exchange is flat, owing to a report, which it believes correct, that the Austrian offshoot of the union generale has suspended. There was a stormy discussion regarding bonds given the president of the union generale.

Situation of DeLong's Party.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—The following dispatch from Lieut. Danenhower, dated Irkutsk, February 4th, has just been received here: DeLong's party is between stations Buleur-Bolonol and Sisteronck-Ustolonck, in a narrow wilderness eighty miles long, devoid of habitation and game. J. J. Collins volunteered to stand by the dying seaman, Hans Ericksen.

Russia Remonstrated With.

The St. James Gazette says: Granville, the foreign secretary, verbally and energetically protested to Prince Labanoff, Russian ambassador, against the action of Russia in reference to the terms of the treaty concluded with Persia, by which the former acquired Akhaltekke oasis.

A Mixture of Punishments.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 8.—The Golos states that out of eight hundred persons tried for participation in the riots at Warsaw, eighty have been acquitted and thirty sentenced to prison for periods varying from one month to a year, and the remainder fined or reprimanded.

Willing to Enter into Agreement.

In the landtag yesterday Schorlemer and Windthorst urged repeal of the May laws, and declared Catholics would submit unhesitatingly to any agreement entered into by the government with them.

A Printers' Strike in Spain.

MADRID, Feb. 8.—Several printers have been arrested, having attempted to coerce others to strike. The government has placed the employes of the royal printing office at the disposal of journals. Many compositors are coming from the provinces to take the place of strikers.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press thinks the Flathead bucks who are interfering with the Northern Pacific surveyors "should be set to work shoveling alkali dust and pounding granite for the road bed to employ their time and utilize their muscle."

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY, 120 Broadway, New York.

LIFE INSURANCE PROFITS DEMONSTRATED BY ACTUAL SETTLEMENTS MADE PRIOR TO 1882.

The Society is now paying maturing Tontine Policies with the following remarkable results:

POLICIES CARRIED TEN YEARS WITH THE RETURN OF ALL PREMIUMS PAID AND INTEREST THEREON.

1st Example: Policy No. 43,593, issued May 25, 1869. Amount....$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (11 years)....5,501 20
The assured was entitled to draw, in cash, $6,456.80 having had besides $10,000 of assurance for eleven years. 116 per cent. of premiums paid, returnable in cash.

This example and those which follow show that LARGER PROFITS ARE PAID POLICY-HOLDERS THAN ARE NOW DECLARED BY ANY OTHER COMPANY.

2d Example: Policy No. 58,547, issued Dec. 30, 1870. Endowment 20 years. Tontine Period ten years. Amount....$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (10 years)....7,539 00
The assured on Dec. 30, 1880, was entitled to draw in cash, $9,033 30, 120 per cent of the premiums paid.
These results, although predicted by carefully made estimates, are

NOT ESTIMATES, BUT ACTUAL CASH RETURNS.

3d Example: Policy No. 41,621, issued March 27, 1869. Amount....$5,000 00
Total premiums paid....2,906 35
In this case the assured withdrew, March 27, 1880, in cash, $3,312 45, being 114 per cent. of premiums paid.
Many policies will be thus paid in 1882, showing

CASH RETURNS OF FROM 100 TO 120 PER CENT. OF THE PREMIUMS PAID.

Assets securely invested of $42,000,000. Surplus, nearly $10,000,000. The Society's popularity is shown by the fact that for the past eleven years the total amount of new policies issued has been greater than that of any other company in existence, thus making its average

ANNUAL NEW BUSINESS LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER COMPANY.

The Society pays death claims promptly and in full. Its policies are clear and concise, and with no unseasonable conditions.

EVERY POLICY BECOMES INCONTESTABLE AFTER THREE YEARS.

THURSDAY MORNING, FEB. 9, 1882.

NOT A GLORIOUS CHAPTER.

It must be confessed that the course of the national administration on South American affairs does not make a record to which the bumptious American citizen can point with any great degree of pride. It was at first attempted to throw upon Secretary Blaine the odium of a course of diplomatic intermeddling and mismanagement which had placed our country in an extremely wrong position. But Mr. Blaine in his two recent letters, the one addressed to President Arthur and the other to the people of the United States, shows first that the president was the author of the series of measures which have been so hastily and ignorantly condemned, and second that the measures were unexceptionable, both in their nature and in the manner in which they had been presented. How the president has receded from a policy which if not entirely of his own making, had his distinct approval and support, is a curious though perhaps not exactly a glorious chapter in our history. In his message addressed to congress on the 6th December, President Arthur said: "As in the present excited condition of popular feeling in these countries (Chili, Bolivia and Peru) there have been serious misapprehensions of the action of the United States, as separate diplomatic intercourse with each through independent ministers is sometimes subject, owing to the want of proper reciprocal communication, to cause temporary misunderstanding, I have deemed it judicious at the present time to send a special envoy, accredited to all and each of them, and furnished with general instructions, which will I trust enable him to bring these powers into friendly relations."

It was Trescott who was sent on this mission. The mission was in the interest of fraternity and peace between the South American states, and to this end Mr. Trescott was intructed to propose a conference of all the independent American states to be held at Washington. But Chili has made a complete conquest of Peru and Bolivia, and is imposing upon them extremely hard terms. It was somehow whispered to President Arthur, possibly through his new secretary of state, that Chili would not take kindly any suggestion that might be interposed between herself and the objects of spoliation which she had set before her; and so telegrams were dispatched in all haste to Trescott informing him that a complete change of policy in regard to the South American republics had been adopted by the president. Fearing this might not be enough, the new secretary of state sent for the Chilean minister at Washington and begged him in effect, to accept the apology of our government, with the assurance that if anything had been done which might give Chili offense, the administration was sorry for the fault and heartily repented it. It wouldn't do for the United States to become embroiled with a great warlike power, such as Chili is; for Chili has an iron gunboat or two and we have none, and consequently as war might follow if Trescott's instructions were not revoked, there was no time to lose and the retraction ought to be made as complete and abject as possible. Then Blaine was roundly censured for the whole transaction. But he replied in those two letters which have utterly crushed his critics and which have incidentally placed the administration in no enviable light. This back-down was as unnecessary as it is humiliating. There was nothing in Trescott's itstructions which could have given Chili any just cause of offense, and the terror of the administration at the whisper that mighty Chili would take the mission of Trescott as an insult and let her displeasure exhale in a declaration of war, would be altogether ludicrous were it not for the little dash of mortification attending it.

OUR EXPOSED COASTS.

It was estimated by army engineers that $4,000,000 would be needed this year for the repair and re-equipment of coast forts, which, as everybody knows, are decaying and utterly unfit for defensive service. The secretary of war considered these estimates, and dividing the figures by eight, asked congress to appropriate $500,000. The matter came before the house of representatives, which whittled Secretary Lincoln's estimate in turn and passed a bill granting $375,000. The necessity of properly guarding the coasts of the United States was by all thought to be imminent, and the inefficiency of the present forts was admitted by all; but the impression prevailed that our whole system of defenses and fort armament was behind the times and unable to cope with modern naval forces to which it would be opposed in the event of war. The small appropriation granted was with the purpose of protecting the forts from decay, and the spirit of the house was decidedly unfavorable to expenditure for rebuilding until a new and modern system has been adopted. While the bill was before the house Mr. McCook, of New York, set forth the necessity for coast forts. No country was so exposed to attacks as ours. British war vessels could come from Halifax to New York in a few hours, and the vessels of Spain could in a very short time reach Key West, New York, or New Orleans. These nations were always ready for war. It would not do, said Mr. McCook, to trust to luck and the inventive genius of our people as a defense against the attacks of foreign foes. In these days wars are fought quickly and the question at issue is settled in a few months. Our navy is utterly inadequate and our forts are useless. In ten days from a declaration of war, British vessels could be riding in our harbors. Our great cities are at the mercy of foreign enemies. We cannot trust to torpedoes because they are useless unless covered by effective fortifications. Our present system of coast defense is as far from what it should be as the bow and arrow and flint lock are from modern weapons of war. Mr. McCook described at length the situation of New York city and read what the engineers have said about the worthlessness of the city's defenses. For these forts alone the engineers had estimated $846,000 as needed in the coming year. Taking up each fort, he shows its real value. History had taught, he continued, that liberty could not be preserved and an honorable position among nations could not be maintained without some fighting. We should assert distinctly, he added, that on this continent the United States shall be without a superior or rival.

All this applies forcibly and obviously to the Pacific coast. The batteries at the entrance to the Golden Gate are old and could not prevent the passage of a fleet or of a single ship into San Francisco bay. One gunboat could batter the city of San Francisco to the ground without meeting any serious resistance. The defenseless condition of the Columbia river is well known. There almost seems to be some excuse for the recent shabby business with Chili when the exposed condition of the Pacific coast is considered.

General Grant, says the telegraph, has been elected a trustee of Dr. Newman's church, New York. The people of the United States would be glad to see Grant give up politics and devote his time wholly to religion.

QUITE A MISTAKE.

In a discourse in favor of "protection" the Walla Walla Union says: "Each one has something he wants protected against foreign competition. Even THE OREGONIAN spends thousands of dollars monthly to protect its monopoly of the associated press dispatches and fights the proposal to have the government conduct the telegraphs of the country as it does the mails for the benefit of all." In all of which the Walla Walla paper is egregiously in error. First, THE OREGONIAN has no news monopoly. Any one who desires it can get the service of the telegraph as cheaply as we can. Second, it does not spend a dime to "protect itself against competition;" but if it did, there would be every difference between protecting its business by its own enterprise and asking the government to protect it by law. Of course it gets its news for as little money as it possibly can. It would be glad to get for $200 a month the service which costs it $2000. Third, so far as its own business is concerned, it has not the slightest objection to having the government conduct the telegraphs of the country. Government would carry news for us as cheap as for anybody else; and the extent of the well established journal's business would enable it to distance all competition in its field in the extent and variety of its news. The postal telegraph, so-called, would strengthen greatly all the established journals of the country, and make competition with them far more difficult than now.

Nothing could be more erroneous than the illustration fallaciously drawn from THE OREGONIAN's position as a newspaper in support of the assertion that "each person has something he wants protected." The illustration is a forced one, and has no relation to the subject of "protection." This paper has no "protection," and seeks none. No statute exists in its favor. It is not so absurd as to ask the government to assure it a monopoly of news. It makes no demand for a law to keep others out of the business. All the advantages and facilities it possesses are of its own creation. The field is open on absolutely equal terms to any newspaper which chooses to enter it. Whoever has news to sell may sell it here without let or hindrance. Hence the condition of the news market is that of absolute free-trade. Anybody may enter the business who desires. This paper is not a beggar, with cap in hand before the law-makers as protectionists are, impudently claiming the right to "protection against competition."

We have to-day a contribution in which the writer presents a political theory of the Logan educational bill. The contribution somewhat amuses us, as it comes from a democratic writer who, evidently, associates with that section of his party which doesn't like Mr. Tilden and yet is in great favor of his adroitness as a political manager. But the theory presented in this letter seems to us much more ingenious and fanciful than consistent and well-founded. Set aside the liquor tax for the support of public schools, and there would still be a large excess of revenue. But in fact the matter of revenue does not come in at all as an argument against readjustment of the tariff. The duties which should be reduced or abolished are in the main prohibitory. They yield no revenue or next to none, but constitute a premium or bonus to manufacturers which consumers are forced to pay. There will be little or no loss of revenue from proper adjustment of the tariff on a revenue basis. And hence the theory presented in this letter, though ingenious, hasn't much to stand on. Were the internal taxes wholly appropriated to educational purposes, or abolished altogether, the tariff problem would in fact remain unchanged. Free trade does not mean abandonment of the system of collecting duties on imports. It means abandonment of the system of virtually prohibiting certain classes of foreign products in order that high prices may be exacted for similar home products. Under a properly adjusted revenue tariff all the money would be collected that government would require for ordinary purposes, and the great body of the people would no longer be fleeced for the benefit of "protected" monopolists. The distinction between a revenue tariff and protective tariff is perfectly clear. The first invites importations; the second prohibits or restricts importations to make high prices. Proper adjustment of the tariff is a thing wholly distinct from the internal revenue question. Whether we keep the excise system or not, the customs ought to be adjusted on the revenue system.

The census office has just published a report on the production of bituminous coal, from which it appears that the total amount mined in the United States during the census year 1880 was 42,429,580 tons, of which a total of 29,842,240 tons were produced in the Appalachian coalfield. Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, furnishes over one-tenth, and the states of Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio nearly three-fourths of the product. The average price per ton at the mine in 1880 was $1.22, while in 1870 it was $1.93, at a cost of 88 cents. An average of 431 tons was raised per man, and 7 per cent of the year's working time, or about twenty days, per man was lost in strikes. The anthracite production was 28,646,996 tons—nearly all furnished by the state of Pennsylvania—making a total product of the country for the census year 71,067,576 tons. England produced 146,818,122 tons in the same year.

A great deal of license is allowed college boys everywhere, but sometimes they overstep the bounds of decency and good morals, and like less favored mortals must suffer. Princeton, the establishment of sober Presbyterianism, singularly has always been afflicted by hoodlum students and just now is in special trouble. Twenty-three young men have been arraigned for a gross outrage and President McCosh insists that they be dismissed. But it so happens that among the offending twenty-three are sons of ministers of high standing in the church, of worthy deacons and of distinguished men, and the regents are timid. But Dr. McCosh, who seldom says one thing when he means another, insists that the young men must go and go they probably will.

The queen, it is said, will present bills to parliament during its present session to prevent bribery at elections. It is high time for reform in England, as a recent instance of shameless barter shows. Sir George Elliott, who has just been returned from North Durham, has "put up" over $400,000 in his various parliamentary campaigns. His recent fight cost $35,000 and he reckons it the cheapest of all his battles. It has come to be the regular thing to make what Nevada men call "coin fights" of parliamentary elections, and a candidate who cannot bring money, and a great deal of it, to the contest has no chance of election. American political methods, bad as they are, seem pure in contrast with the English money games.

Prof. Theophilus Parsons, who was Dane professor of law in Harvard university for more than twenty years, and one of the most eminent legal authorities of this country, died in Cambridge, Mass., on the 26th January, in the eighty-fifth year of his age. He was the author of a number of works on jurisprudence which are used as text-books in our law schools and universally consulted as authorities in the courts. The most important of these works is "The Law of Contracts," which was first published in two volumes in 1853, and expanded to three volumes in 1864. Prof. Parsons also wrote several religious works among them "Deus Homo," called forth by the publication of "Ecce Homo," in 1867.

Pendleton is to have more room. Slater's bill authorizing sale of six hundred and forty acres of the Umatilla reservation contiguous to that town passed the senate yesterday and will, of course, go through the house without opposition. All that Pendleton needs now to rival London is houses, people, industries and perhaps another slice from the reservation. It is one of the most prosperous towns in Eastern Oregon, and growing rapidly, as the necessity for more space demonstrates. And when the reservation is in possession of industrious farmers, as it ought to be and will be before many years, it will have a local "backing" equal to any place in Oregon.

President Villard has now on the way to Portland an experienced builder and competent assistants, who will proceed at once to select sites and build elevators at such points along the lines of the various railroads over which he has control as may be deemed judicious and best serve the interests of the farming communities surrounding. This system has been long in use upon the lines of railroad in Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, and other western states, and its establishment in this region will be of great assistance to our farmers and grain dealers in marketing that product.

There is a class of writers in England who criticise everything Mr. Gladstone does, good or bad, on principle. A recent visit with his son to Spurgeon's church has called forth a letter intimating a conspiracy between the two to bring about disestablishment. The writer of it recalls the fact that Mr. Spurgeon once wished that the church of England were worse off than it is, for then it might with the more ease be got rid of, and he adds that Mr. Gladstone aids the accomplishment of this wish by promoting such clergymen as will make the church as bad as she can be.

There is good news for Washington territory. The house committee on territories have agreed to report a bill for her admission as a state. It is a better result than could have been hoped for against the strong opposition which has been made. Washington is fully entitled to come in as a state. Her growth is of the most substantial kind. She will have a million inhabitants before her present race of school boys get old enough to be United States senators—a pinnacle of greatness they will all now begin to aim at.

The young man who addicts himself to cigarettes is increasing. We see it stated that the development of the cigarette interest in the past fiscal year is one of the noteworthy features of that remarkable business period. The production of cigarettes reached the large total of 567,386,983 against 408,701,365 in the fiscal year 1880, showing an increase the past year of 158,685,618. In a few years statistics will be taken to show how many cigarette-smoking young men have gone to join the bang-your-hair young man.

A state temperance convention has just been held in Iowa. It adopted resolutions cordially approving Logan's bill to set apart all the revenue raised from the liquor traffic for the support of schools. It also asked the legislature to authorize a special election to give the people of the state a chance to vote on the proposed prohibitory amendment.

Guiteau is said to be very much depressed. His close confinement admits of no ostentatious display of himself to the public and the fact is galling to his vanity. Could his execution be performed within the walls of the jail, with no witnesses but the necessary officials of the law, his humiliation would be complete.

DIED.

Near Moscow, Idaho, Jan. 27, Allen Lewis, aged 25 years, 6 months and 6 days.

Entertainment for the benefit of Good Samaritan Hospital.

A CARD.

THE LADIES AND GENTLEMEN CONNECTED with the entertainment to be given on Friday evening for the benefit of the Good Samaritan Hospital are pained to learn that there was cause of dissatisfaction in the sale of reserved seats yesterday morning, and beg to say that the matter had been placed in the hands of Messrs. D. W. Prentice & Co., who have had large experience in the business. The undersigned, previous to the opening of the box sheet, instructed Mr. Prentice, in writing, to limit the number of seats to each applicant to six, which was deemed a very liberal apportionment. Exceptions were made to the ladies and gentlemen (not exceeding ten persons) who take part in the entertainment, who were allowed to choose two seats each (and no more) before the sale of tickets commenced. About one-half of the members availed themselves of the opportunity. Our friends, U. S. A. officers and their families, at Vancouver, who have chartered a boat expressly for the occasion, when their representative was reached in regular order in the line, was allowed to take the whole number of tickets required. No other exceptions should have been made. We fear Mr. Prentice's well known amiability prevented his rigidly enforcing the rule. We desire, in behalf of this noble charity, to thank the friends who have so generously responded to its call for help, and trust that this unfortunate circumstance in connection with the sale of seats may not cause unkind feelings; and in order to give all an opportunity to aid its good work the entertainment will be repeated on Saturday evening, 11th inst.

The seats in the gallery have been cushioned, making that the most desirable portion of the house. The theater has been put in excellent condition, new scenery added, and we may safely say that no labor or expense has been spared to make the entertainment worthy the kind interest manifested.

Any friend of the hospital who has been overlooked in the matter of invitation will be cheerfully furnished upon application to the undersigned.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CITY.

BARMAN'S CREDITORS.—The San Francisco Bulletin of recent date gives the list of Ike Barman's creditors in that city as follows: Hyman Bros., $3144; Michels, Friedlander & Co., $1024; W. Cohn & Co., $900; Weil & Michels, $1172; Cahn, Nickelsburg & Co., $1628; P. Derwin & Co., $1200; M. Hyman & Co., $1748; Neustadter Bros., $730; Reiss Bros. & Co., $1143; Greenbaum, Sachs & Freeman, $1666; Sachs, Heller & Co., $1687; S. O. Alexander & Co., $1000; Coleman Bros., $2500, and others, whose claims will swell the total there to $42,000, which, added to the Oregon claims, increase the amount to nearly $64,000. The attorneys of the San Francisco creditors have brought an equity suit to set aside the Oregon attachments, and an injunction has been issued in Portland forbidding the disposal of the goods. In the suit in equity it is alleged that the claims of Barman's brother and Alexander Mayer, aggregating $15,985, are fraudulent.

JOINED A NEW JURISDICTION.—Willamette Council No. 1, Order of Chosen Friends, Tuesday night joined the Independent Order of Chosen Friends of the Pacific coast. Dr. Cohn, the deputy grand councillor for Oregon and Washington was present at the meeting and received the new council into the Pacific coast brotherhood. After this step the following officers were elected: F. G. Abell, P. C. C.; N. S. Pierce, C. C.; Mrs. Kate C. Abell, V. C.; Mrs. Mary Pierce, Prelate; E. C. Wheeler, Secretary; Geo. A. Pleasance, Financier; Wm. Gallick, Treasurer; Miss Mattie Downing, Marshal; Mrs. E. E. Smith, Warden; Thomas Corbin, Guard; P. R. Skinner, Sentry; Dr. C. H. Wheeler, Medical Examiner; S. R. Irwin, L. Prager, Frank G. Abell, Trustees. The movement to join the Independent order seems to be general in Oregon.

THE CUSTOMARY ROW.—About half past twelve this morning a row occurred in Charley Turk's boarding house between Charles Rose, a Jamaica negro, and John Gibson, a runner for the house. Policeman Dobbins arrested the negro, who came into the station house screaming and wailing at the top of his voice. After being quieted, he said that Gibson had got him to desert from his vessel a few days ago, and was going to ship him again this morning, but upon his refusal to go, the man struck and beat him. Gibson was also arrested, and said the negro had come to the house beastly drunk, and while he was attempting to put him to bed, Rose bit him in the arm. Gibson bared his arm and showed the imprints of two rows of teeth, blood flowing from the wounds. Both were locked up for the night.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Tuesday morning about 9 o'clock Frank Compton, a bridge carpenter, fell from the bridge at Kibbling' ferry, on the Sandy, and was killed, living only two hours after the fall. He with another man was engaged in guying a heavy piece of timber, when the rope broke and both fell. Compton's companion caught hold of some timbers, thus saving his life. Mr. Compton was a hard-working man. He has a wife and child living in Dallas, Polk county, and a father in Lebanon, Linn county. Only a month ago a man fell from this same bridge, and is yet in the hospital with a dislocated spine.

INCORPORATION.—Yesterday afternoon articles incorporating the Prospect Hill farming company were filed in the county clerk's office by John R. Foster, J. H. Kunzie, C. H. Lewis, T. A. Davis and H. W. Corbett; capital stock, $100,000; duration, perpetual; object, buying, selling and cultivating lands, shipping and forwarding and building a railroad from Moorhouse to Umatilla landing; principal office in Portland. This incorporation is simply a formal partnership among the gentlemen above named, who have been conducting farming operations in Umatilla county for several years past.

NEW WAY OF PAYING OLD DEBTS.—James Murphy was arrested on a charge of assault and battery preferred by James Meier, who stated that when he (Meier) came to town some time since Murphy was a runner for the Virginia hotel and took him there. After becoming acquainted with Murphy, Meier loaned him some money. The next day Murphy was discharged by his employers and left the hotel, forgetting to pay this debt. Meier yesterday saw Murphy on the street and asked him for the money, when Murphy struck him in the face. Murphy was locked in the city jail to await trial.

TWO MORE BOUND OVER.—Lillie Parker and Chas. Crowley, who were arrested a few days ago upon suspicion of being concerned in the robbery committed at the Cascades, were examined before Justice Davis yesterday morning and each bound over in the sum of $300. W. H. Cornelius, who has been in confinement since his arrest, was yesterday released, bail having been furnished. The woman, Lillie Parker, and Charles Crowley will in all probability be released to-day, as their friends are now doing all they can to get bonds for them.

RUSH FOR SEATS.—Never in the history of Portland was there so importunate a demand for reserved seats as was shown yesterday at Prentice's for Friday evening's charitable entertainment. Every seat in the parquette and dress circle was taken within one hour. Those who did not secure desirable locations are loud in their complaints, which are answered by Col. McCraken in the advertising columns. To appease a very large number who were disappointed, a second performance will be given Saturday night.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.—Sunday evening at seven o'clock the First Philosophical society will celebrate the seventy-third anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday with appropriate exercises. Among the speakers mentioned by the committee in charge, are James Keck, E. W. Ryan, H. Y. Thompson, E. W. Morrison, C. J. Curtis, Geo. P. Riley, Mrs. A. S. Duniway, Dr. Alex. Rosenspitz and others. The Colored Glee club will render appropriate music.

FIREMEN'S BENEFIT BALL.—Tuesday evening, Feb. 21st, the Portland fire department will give a ball at Turn-Halle for the benefit of the Mutual aid association. The department seldom asks the public for assistance, and as this appeal is for the funds to ameliorate the condition of their sick, it should meet, as it no doubt will, with hearty response.

THE SALMON HATCHERY.—It was decided last night by the directors of the Oregon and Washington Fish Propagating Company, who hold a hatchery on the Clackamas river, to turn the establishment over to the government. Details of the transfer will be made public at the next meeting of the board of trade, to be held Monday night.

INTERESTING BOOK.—The following volume which the Hon. Matthew P. Deady has donated to the library, entitled "General Lane's Brigade in Central Mexico," by Albert G. Brackett, M. D., he received from the general in April, 1881, at his home in Roseburg, a short time before his death.

WELL OUT OF IT.—George Cook, one of the assailants of Arat, the man who was shot in Schneider's saloon Sunday night, was yesterday found guilty of assault and battery. He was fined $50 and costs. His counsel, J. A. Campbell, gave notice of appeal.

RECOVERED.—J. W. Westfall, who was shot at Toledo about six weeks ago, was on the street again yesterday, having recovered from his wounds. The bullet which lodged in the muscles of his neck is still imbedded there, but causes him no annoyance.

REHEARSAL.—On account of Friday evening's performance at the theatre, the Orchestral Union will hold their weekly rehearsal this (Thursday) evening at 8 P. M. A full attendance is desired.

WORK COMMENCED.—Yesterday a large force of men began work on making the excavation for the O. R. & N. Co's dry dock below Albina.

TURK AND HIS GANG.

A Fair Sample of his Treatment of Sailors.

Below is given an epitome of the testimony in a case tried yesterday in which two of Jim Turk's strikers were charged with brutally assaulting a sailor. It is only a repetition of forty or fifty cases of similar character which have been tried in the police and justices' courts within the past three years. As usual, Turk proved himself innocent. In his effort to silence prosecution by bringing a counter charge against his victim, Mr. Thomas Ward laid himself liable to visit Salem without paying his fare, and to secure board at the state's expense for a year or so.

The case of Wm. Palmer and Thomas Ward for assault and battery, also the one against Hansen of assault with a dangerous weapon, were all three on trial yesterday in the police court. They were tried together by consent. The prosecuting witness, (Hansen) was first called, who testified that he first saw Ward and Palmer Saturday, the 4th, when they tried to get him to desert and come and board with them. He took several drinks with them and received $2 from Ward. He returned to his vessel that night late, and with Ward took a bag and chest of clothes to Turk's boarding house. He then went away and did not see them again until Sunday, a little after noon, when they attacked him. Turk was also present at the time of the row. No revolver was drawn by him, but Palmer pulled it from his waist where he had it concealed. Ward knocked him down and kicked him in the face. When cross-examined he stated that they had offered him $10 to leave his vessel, a Norwegian bark, and allow the u to ship him; that they could procure $75 per month for him on an American or English vessel. This he refused to do. He did not fire a shot, and does not think anyone else did.

Freddie Jackson, a boy eight years old, was next examined, and stated that both men jumped on Hansen, and after he was knocked down, Ward kicked him, Palmer standing by, saying "Give it to him." He identified the men in the police court. He said Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney were there at the time.

Mrs. Sweeney testified that she did not see the fight, but heard Hansen cry out, and on running to the front door of her house, saw him get up from the ground with blood on his face. She did not hear a pistol shot.

Mr. Sweeney said he saw the row, but could not identify the assailants. He recognized Hansen, however, and said he saw James Turk looking on. He did not hear any pistol shot or see any weapon of that kind.

Mrs. Wolff said she did not see the row, but saw Hansen walking away from the scene with his face bloody. She did not hear any pistol shots.

E. B. Card was subpenaed, but the questions put to him were overruled, and he had little to say.

James Turk said he was walking with Ward and Palmer, when they saw Hansen, and Ward asked him for $2 that he (Ward) had given him. Hansen refused to give it to him, and drew a revolver from his pocket, when Ward rushed on him and succeeded in getting the weapon away. Ward then knocked him down. He also tried to tell how Hansen came to his house, but was interrupted, and did not make much of it. Palmer's testimony was about the same as Turk's. Ward also told the same story, and when asked whether Hansen had shot at him, said he did not, while in an affidavit he swore Hansen had shot at him. He said he was excited when he swore out a warrant for Hansen's arrest, and did not know what he meant by saying Hansen had shot at him. The case against Hansen was dismissed; Palmer was also discharged. Ward was fined $50 and costs. The trial was no sooner over than Deputy District Attorney Mulkey swore out a warrant for Ward's arrest, charging him with perjury. The warrant was served and Ward was confined in the city jail. He will, in all probability, be convicted of this charge.

CHURCH MISSION.

Litany was said and the holy communion administered at 9 A. M., Bishop Paddock of Washington Territory preaching an instructive sermon from Timothy iii.16. At the close of the service the congregation adjourned to the Sunday school room, when Bishop Morris called the meeting to order, and on motion the Rev. John W. Sellwood was elected secretary. The Rev. Mr. Plummer then read a paper on the Pentateuch, commonly known as the five books of Moses. It was a paper that had been very carefully prepared, and it handled in a masterly way, many of the difficulties found in those books. After the reading of the paper the clergy were called upon for any remarks they might think fit to offer upon that subject. Bishop Paddock sustained most of the position taken by the essayist. He affirmed that it was foolish for the clergy to insist upon maintaining the opinions held in their youth if subsequent discoveries should have shown them to be false. He thought it to be the duty of the clergy to keep abreast of the scientific knowledge of the age. God, he said, has two books, the book of Revelation and the book of nature, and these, when rightly understood, will be found to speak but one language. Much, he affirmed, set forth by scientists are nothing but theories, or mere statements made to-day to be rejected to-morrow. What has been established upon facts of which there can be no question we should accept.

Quite a free and full discussion followed upon a variety of points pertaining to the Pentateuch, nearly all the clergy taking part. It was a very interesting discussion indeed, and we only wish that we had time and space to give an outline of it. Bishop Morris in a few words closed the discussion. He said that we ought always to bear in mind when seeking to explain the bible that its great purpose is to reveal God to us and the plan of salvation. Its object is not to teach science. The light it reveals is a light to point out man's duty. With this key we may unlock all the difficulties of God's word.

In the afternoon a paper was read by the Rev. Mr. Rosenberg on the New Lectionary. It gave a history of its growth, changes, etc., and advocated the use of the old in preference to the new. A general discussion followed, most of the speakers thinking it a decided improvement that we have optional lessons to choose from.

The Rev. John W. Sellwood read a paper on "Why have we four gospels instead of one?" The paper set forth the origin of the gospels, the circumstances, the time when and the place where they were written. It showed that the four gospels were four separate and independent witnesses of the life and teachings of Christ, and as such gave strength to our faith in the Christian religion.

After a short discussion the meeting adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

At 7:30 o'clock in the evening prayer was said in the church and a good practical sermon preached by the Rev. W. Chambers of Salem from the text, Acts 2:37, "Men and brethren, what shall we do?"

This morning the Holy Communion will be administered at 9 o'clock, after which a meeting will be held in the Sunday school room for discussion.

At 7:30 P. M. the closing services will be held in the church when a paper on the Teaching Church will be read by the Rev. Mr. Stevens, of Albany, followed with an address by Bishop Paddock.

MR. CONDON'S LECTURE.

A large audience met Prof. Condon yesterday evening. He is a friend sure of a welcome always in Portland. His lecture was a most thoughtful presentation of the great factors which go to make and sustain society. He distinguished them into two classes, viz: those which need no encouragement, such as the tendency of populations toward large communities, or the desire for wealth and power; and those which need care and upbuilding, in which class were included education, industrial life and the religious conviction or motive. Most interesting were the words spoken upon the great fact that work (and the class in society who can unite work and intelligence) is the real distributer and measurer of wealth and power. No more dangerous force exists in any community than a tendency to idleness and luxury as the prize of great possessions. Use, and use only, vindicates the possession of wealth, and an inactive condition is always one of disease and decay.

In speaking of the religious factor in society, the speaker adopted the historical line, tracing to the Aryans and their history, through Hellenic, Teutonic and other sources, a permanent element of conviction that God cares for his human family. He showed how from the strict standpoint of science the existence of such a conviction must appear as a most potent force, for the upbuilding and sustaining of nations. The analogy was well pointed between physical food and mental food, and the argument ably conceived which placed religious conviction, in its great central faith of the care of God and the human brotherhood, in the foreground of social forces.

Preceding the lecture, the audience was favored with an excellent duet by the Misses Gantenbein. The next lecture is on February 15th, and will consist of the presentation in three brief papers or addresses of the following themes:

1. How civil service reform succeeded in Great Britain, by Mr. A. F. Sears.
2. How our present system of patronage with its evils was brought about, by Mr. W. B. Gilbert.
3. What practicable measures in civil service reform ought to be taken? by Mr. W. H. Effinger.

FOR THE FARMERS.

Villard's Latest Enterprise—Elevators to be Erected throughout the Northwest, and other Facilities for Handling Grain Established.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—President Villard, of the N. P. R. R., is of opinion that wheat raisers of the far northwest are at the mercy of the merchants who buy their wheat, at prices which merchants themselves are able to dictate. He is desirous of aiding the development of the wheat growing regions of Oregon, Washington territory, and in fact the whole of the entire belt of country through which the Northern Pacific passes. To this end he has engaged the services of Geo. B. Mallory, who has left for San Francisco. Mr. Mallory is a capable engineer and builder, and has erected some of the largest grain elevators in the country. He will go over the entire route of the railroad, with a view particularly of deciding what is best to be done to create facilities for the handling and transportation of the wheat crop. He has taken with him two surveyors to assist in his work. The result of Mr. Mallory's trip will probably be the establishment at every station along the route of the road of a small elevator, into which farmers of surrounding districts can dump their wheat, and from which cars can be easily loaded. This is a system that prevails throughout Iowa, Nebraska and other western states.

MISS ADELIA R. LUSE.

Our Albany correspondent sends a glowing account of the successful readings of this noted elocutionist on Friday and Saturday evenings last in that city. On both nights Miss Luse was greeted with full houses, composed of the very elite of the city. In her rendition of descriptive and tragic scenes, as "How He Saved St. Michael's," the garden scene in "Mary, Queen of Scots," etc., she is so perfectly easy, graceful and natural that a casual observer would think, "Why, anybody could do that." But it is because her gestures and expressions of the various emotions involved in the pieces rendered are so natural and perfect that the reading appears so easy. Her strong forte appears to be in reading such pieces as require the varied intonations of the voice, as Poe's "Bells," "The Creeds of the Bells," etc. In these she has few equals, certainly no lady superior. Her sacred pieces, as "Rock of Ages," "Jesus, Lover of my Soul," are rendered with a pathos and power, such as once heard makes them never to be forgotten. Miss Luse also possesses peculiar gifts for the personation of the comic and ludicrous. Her very nature is full of sunshine and cheer, and her delight is to scatter sunshine and laughter among all who are about her. Hence, with all her soul she enters into such readings as "Money Musk," "Hunting a House," "The Dead Doll," etc. In all of these she touches the popular heart and carries all before her. Those who have an opportunity should not fail to hear her. Her like has not been in Oregon for many a day.

NOTICE.

We thank the public for patronage bestowed on us thus far and respectfully solicit a continuance of the same, and call attention to the low rates our goods were sold at during the holidays. Arrangements lately made are such that we are enabled to maintain those rates, and we will guarantee to sell at lower prices than any establishment in our line on the coast. Our spring stock will shortly arrive, embracing all the latest novelties. We cordially invite the public to call and inspect our stock before purchasing elsewhere. YAQUINA BAY NOTES.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

NEWPORT, Feb. 7.

There is a great scarcity of beef and butter on the bay.

The weather is the finest; no freeze; springlike; no sickness; everybody feels well.

Mr. Allen Parker has returned from Portland, where he was to superintend the repairs being made to machinery of the Oneata Mill Co.

The breakwater is standing the heavy seas very well, but needs the $200,000 that the legislature recommended, to finish it in good shape.

The O. P. R. road have the piles driven for their wharf and warehouse, and have graders and carpenters rushing the work. They have been laying track for construction cars.

J. W. Brasfield, formerly of Junction, has entered into partnership with J. R. Bayley, and has opened a large stock of general merchandise at Newport. They bid fair to have the leading business on the bay.

An unfortunate accident occurred last Sunday. A son of the widow Babcock, about eighteen years of age, was hunting when the shotgun he was carrying was accidentally discharged, the load of buckshot entering his left hand and ranging upward tore the arm fearfully. Dr. Eich dressed the wound and is of the opinion that he will save the arm, but Babcock will lose the use of his hand. This falls heavily upon the mother, as he was the principal support of the family.

A POLITICAL VIEW OF THE LOGAN BILL.

PORTLAND, Feb. 7.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Permit me to present an idea in a rambling sort of way on the question of leading importance at the present time, namely, the Logan educational bill. It is not my purpose to urge any "high toned" objection to the measure; on the contrary, at a different time and under different circumstances it would meet my hearty approval. At the present writing, however, it seems to me as an humble observer of the course of events that it is being urged simply to dodge the all important question regarding the revision of the tariff and the ultimate introduction of free trade doctrines. In looking at the subject in this light one can easily account for the reception which the bill has received, and it needs no prophetic vision to see why it is so warmly espoused by certain individuals. Mr. Tilden, for instance, who is nothing if not the greatest political manager this country ever produced, sees his way to the White House blocked by the division in the democratic party upon the question of free trade, and through his ever faithful henchman, Dana, of the Sun, has openly repudiated free trade sentiments and favored high revenue, or in fact but not in name, protective tariff, as a matter of expediency. To make a high tariff necessary all that is required is to pass the Logan bill, and thus the great issue of free trade would be laid effectually to rest until Mr. Tilden's ambition is gratified by a four years' residence at Washington. But from the Sun's standpoint the solid south, now on the eve of dissolution, must be cajoled into frigid solidity, at least until November, 1884. Therefore it does not advocate the Logan bill, but simply demands that the internal revenue tax on whisky and tobacco must be abolished altogether. What an idea indeed, to keep our southern brethren in the bonds of democracy! Mahone would be utterly powerless against the southern bourbons with such a battle cry. "Tilden—and reform and free whisky!" So much for the Sun's position. Let us see how it is in the republican camp. Pennsylvania's delegation is enthusiastic in support of Logan's bill, with probably a little hesitation in favor of advocating the total abolishment of the tax, for the purpose of making a stalwart bid for the southern vote. In fact the position of the southern states on the issue is one of power. If they make the price of their being solid in 1884 the abolishment of the tax, Mr. Tilden is ready to grant it, and if they also make the same demand regarding their division Don Cameron steps to the front with an assent. Now may I close by inquiring why THE OREGONIAN, which is a free trade journal in spite of the opposition of the leaders of its party, is in favor of a measure which is simply introduced to kill free trade doctrines and perpetuate protective (or high revenue) tariff? Does THE OREGONIAN also wish to bury an issue which it has done so much to revive; and is it afraid that Mr. Watterson will place the democracy on an undeniable free trade platform in 1884, when the only journal on the northwest coast will not be able to tell which side of the fence it is on?

A Singular Sight.

Jacksonville Sentinel.

It is a queer and disgraceful sight, not a bit creditable to Oregon, to see men sitting idly along the banks of a navigable river like the Willamette and whining about exorbitant railroad charges. It is notably from along the banks of this stream that the anti-monopoly squawk comes, and if we did not know better, people at a distance would think that the railroad company had actually dammed the river and obstructed navigation. Instead of such a serious state of affairs, the river is open from the heart of the Willamette valley to the grain market at Portland, and the railroad company is in no sense a monopoly, because it has not exclusive control of the means of transportation. A monopoly means an exclusive right to anything, and so long as the river is open to all who choose to build boats and navigate it, a railroad running along its banks can hardly be said to enjoy any exclusive privileges. The railroad commissioners of Massachusetts, in their last report say: "The best influence which congress can exert toward lowering the rates of freight is legislation improving the navigation of the Mississippi and other great lines of water communication. These furnish natural competition with railroads and impose a desirable check on railroad rates." The commissioners recognize the well known principle that water transportation is cheaper than land transportation, and if the Willamette valley papers were to unite in urging the building of an independent line of steamers they would serve the public better than by idle and fruitless rantings against the railroad companies. If the time spent in attending anti-monopoly leagues was used industriously, its profits would soon amount to enough to build a boat; but then there would be no possible excuse for whining, and the crowd of little politicians who live by magnifying the grievous burdens that only the lazy and idle need groan about, would find their occupation gone.

A New Mining Region.

Bismarck Tribune.

The chances are becoming numerous that the new silver mining region in the vicinity of Fort Maginnis, M. T., will attract a big stampede in the spring. Five miners and prospectors, the discoverers and early pioneers of that camp, who have been east, have arrived here on their return. During a conversation with one of the number we learned that the new mines are located about six miles from Maginnis, in the Judith basin in the Snowy mountains, between the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers. The first silver ore was struck last May, and now there are 2000 inhabitants in that section, many of whom are from the Black Hills. The largest town here is called Maidenville. It sports about a dozen business houses. It is the opinion of our informant that the mines on this belt will prove the richest ever discovered in Montana. He had a number of assays which were made from ore taken from the leading developments in that camp. A lead called the Florence produced some ore that assayed $20,000. The streak that yielded this rock was probably a [illegible] seam. Our informant, however, assured us that there were several mines there that contained quartz, which assayed from $300 to $[illegible] to the ton, and that the Collar mine at a depth of [illegible] feet, was in solid vein matter that averaged $[illegible] per ton. The above is the statement of an interested miner, not ours. We simply give it for what it is worth. No doubt every statement he made is founded on facts, but like all miners, he is evidently given to extravagance, and over-colored the prospects of the Fort Maginnis silver region. We are satisfied that the precious metal has been struck in paying quantity in the new camp, but when it is alleged that there are mountains of galena there running from $2000 to $20,000 per ton, we want the privilege of swallowing just so much of it as we can digest, and no more. However, we believe that the Fort Maginnis region will enjoy a boom in the spring.
